A PERTH business is helping men of all ages take extra care of their looks, as well as their health and well-being.

Guys Grooming is a Hay Street business offering a range of male specific hair, face and body grooming services.

Established two years ago by Leycester Cory and Nathan Ahern, the business has become a popular haunt for men from all walks of life to scrub up.

But it is the work of these two men in helping the Prostate Cancer Foundation of Australia that sets them apart from other business. They were recently recognised alongside other individuals and businesses at Government House with an award presented by the Governor of Western Australia.

The award acknowledges the support Guys Grooming has shown by raising funds for the Foundation in recent years.

The business has held a number of poker nights in recent months in a bid to raise much-needed funds for the charity.

Mr Ahern said when the business was established, supporting a men's charity seemed like the right thing to do.

Mr Cory said providing a social atmosphere was a good platform to get customers to talk about men's health issues.
