GROOMING GUYS GROOMING

The floors are clad with steel checker plate, leaving you in no doubt that this place is for men, and men only. Soft, black leather chairs invite even the most nervous of blokes to “rebuild, repair, maintain” as the GG mantra says. While it looks like a hairdressing salon from the outside, inside you can also have your hands and feet “detailed”, your face hot-towel shaved, your body massaged and your surface area waxed by the all-female staff. There’s a chill-out lounge with big-screen TV, coffee machine and bar and, according to co-owner Nathan Ahern, “there’s no Enya playing”. Prices start at $15 for a mono-brow and ear wax and more for the more delicate the areas become. After that, you can try a stress-relief facial. If you’re getting hitched, you and your groomsmen can indulge in a personalised package. GG’s clients range from corporate high-flyers to mining blokes getting a clean-up.
